

- At the time for the scheduled rest break, a break screen will appear. To take the break, raise your hand, and a proctor will place the exam into the break mode and escort you out of the testing room. Please note a 15-minute break is timed on the computer. If you are not back to your testing station before the break is over, the next section will automatically begin. If you take a break in addition to the one that is scheduled, you will not be able to make up any lost testing time.
- Any examinee that leaves the testing room before or after the scheduled break must first receive permission from a proctor and will be escorted while outside the testing room.
- You may not ask questions about the exam after it begins.
- Report any suspicious behavior or violation of rules to your proctor by raising your hand during the exam or informing the proctor at the rest break.
- Any candidate who gives or receives assistance during the test will be required to turn in all test materials immediately and to leave the testing room. In such a case, the candidate's test will not be scored, no fee payments will be refunded to the candidate, and legal action may be taken.
- If your scores are canceled because of your failure to comply with Pearson's testing policies, your scores will not be reported and your fees will not be refunded.
- You will receive a printed unofficial preliminary personal Score Report before leaving the Pearson VUE Test Center that will show your scaled scores and percentile ranks on each multiple-choice subtest and composite. This is not equivalent to an official personal Score Report or an Official Transcript. The scores displayed on this report are still pending verification by Pearson and therefore the preliminary personal Score Report is not official and cannot be presented to schools as a substitute for an Official Transcript.

No Score Option

- At the end of the test you will be given the "No Score Option." If you do not want your test scored, then you will need to click the button stating "No. I do NOT want my test scored and do NOT want my scores reported to anyone."
- Choosing the "No Score Option" means that scores will not be reported to you or to any schools. This request is irrevocable, fees will not be refunded, and any later requests to score your test and report your scores will not be honored.
